Subject: 10 Texas apartment accounts your sales team may want

Hi [Name], good talking with you. I pulled a small CraneSignal sample for [Company]. These are Texas multifamily properties with public change signals: zoning, permits, leasing, construction, recent sales, or new ownership.

The reason these matter: software decisions often get reopened when a property is being built, starts leasing, changes hands, or moves under a new operating plan.

If these look useful, I can send a bigger batch filtered to your territory, buyer type, and product category.

How To Position It On The Call

Say: "I am not sending a generic list. I am sending accounts with a public reason to call right now, plus the source behind each reason." Then ask whether they want more leads like new developments, recently sold properties, or properties running a specific known software stack.
